Volunteer influencer programme for Nevada governor's race

Learn how they organised it.

Creator Campaign Hook

01 · Volunteer programme

Creators for Aaron

Nevada Attorney General Aaron Ford’s gubernatorial campaign built a volunteer influencer programme called “Creators for Aaron”.

02 · Follower range

Creator audience size

The programme enlists content creators with follower counts ranging from the low thousands to the millions.

03 · No payment

Unpaid participation

None of the participating creators are paid, according to both the Ford campaign and the influencers themselves.

04 · Video engagement

Early video performance

Fifteen governor’s race videos reviewed had a combined 30,000 likes across Instagram and TikTok.

05 · Follower totals

Combined reach

The six accounts behind those videos have more than 24 million followers between Instagram and TikTok.

06 · TikTok launch

TikTok accounts launched

Both the Ford and Lombardo campaigns launched TikTok accounts in March.

07 · Vish's take

What I'd do

Identify creators whose audience matches your target, give them clear non-paid incentives (early access, co-creation credit), and set simple tracking to see what resonates.
